MUNICIPAL HANDICAP

THE BIG PRIZES AT MORRIS PARK WOY BY HENRY OF NAVARRE.

Bookmakers and Others Arrested and Taken to Police Court-Fast Time on the Latonia Track.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 .- Although it wa expected that a good day's sport would be had at Morris Park, with seven well-filled races on the card, and a few surprises due to change of form, it was not thought that a lot of central office detectives would cause consternation among the betting men was the case, and a fine day's sport was marred by the action of the police. Soon after the fourth race had been run eight bookmakers, with five assistants, were arrested on charges of bookmaking and taken to Essex Market Police Court, where they were bailed. Inspector McCullagh was at the track, and after the sixth race the judges, Colonel Simmons and Clarence Mc-Dowell, and C. G. Fitzgerald, clerk of the scales, were taken into custody on a charge of maintaining a lottery. After the races the prisoners were also taken to Essex Market Police Court and released on bail. The great race of the day was the Municipal handicap, at a mile and three-quarters, in which August Belmont's crack, Henry of Navarre, was asked to take up 130 pounds and give four pounds each to Rey El Santa Anita and Clifford, while Andrews was the light weight. At the opening of the betting Navarre was held at 4 to 5, but was backed down a point at the post. Clifford was strongly played as second choice and Rey El Santa Anita third choice, while nobody wanted Andrews at any price. The quartet got off in good order. Andrews led the way ast the grand stand for the first time, al ler strong pulls, with Navarre in second ce, and Santa Anita and Clifford close together in the rear. As the racers rounded the lower turn Andrews shot out some distance and soon had a lead of half a dozen lengths over Clifford, who had taken second place and was running easily, two lengths in front of Santa Anita, he a length in front of Navarre, who had been taken back by Griffin. The pace quickened as they came to the foot of the hill, and Andrews was beginning to tire. Up the hill they rushed a high rate of speed, and as they com-ted the first mile Andrews had dropped back into third place, while Clifford showed the way, a neck in front of Navarre. They rushed around the turn on top of the hill with speed quickening every instant. Clif-ford was doing his best, but try as he might he could not gain an inch on Navarre, and half a mile from home he was only a head to the good and Simms was at work with hands and heels. Half a length behind the pair was Santa Anita, while Andrews was hopeless case. A mile and a half had en run, and Griffin had finally succeeded in getting Navarre's nose in front, for at the last furiong pole Clifford had got enough and was rapidly dropping back. Taral was coming like a whirlwind on Santa Taral was coming like a whirlwind on Santa Anita. The three swept through the last furlong only necks apart, but Griffin did not have to do any urging on Navarre. He was running through with a good bit left, and drew rapidly away from the others, finally winning easily by a good length, with Santa Anita eight lengths in front of Clifford, who died away to nothing, but got the third place by fifteen lengths. The crowd cheered the best handicap horse in training, and everybody seemed happy over the splendid victory. Summaries:

Six Heats Necessary to Decide the 2:21 Trot at Louisville-2:20 Pace Taken by Belle Barton.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 24.-Three races and an unfinished one, in which two heats were necessary before it was decided, provided the programme at the fourth day of the Louisville Driving and Fair Associaion. The track was again fast and the weather somewhat threatening, but despite that the crowd was some improvement over yesterday, about eight hundred people being in attendance. The first race to-day, the 2:21 trot, postponed from yesterday, proved something of a surprise. Macaroon and Forester were the favorites, but Grace O'Malley, who already had one heat to her credit, won two to-day without an effort. In the first heat of the 2:20 pace Warren C. fell down in the back stretch, throwing Gosnell from his seat, but not injuring him. Warren C. was distanced. The 2:11 trot was not finished and was carried over to-morrow. Summaries:

DUNRAVEN'S PROTEST.

Report of the Cup Committee of the New York Yacht Club.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.-The last general meeting of the New York Yacht Club for this year was held to-night. The cub committee submitted its report, all of which, with the exception of the following, relating to Lord Dunrayen's protest respecting the measurements of the Defender, has already been made public:

"On Saturday, Sept. 7, Lord Dunraven communicated to the cup committee his belief that Defender had sailed that day's race immersed in three or four inches more han when she was measured. Lord Dunraven stated that he believed that the change had been made without the knowledge of the Defender's owners, but it must be corrected or he would discontinue racing. The cup committee ordered a remeasurement to be made. On Sept. 8 the yachts were marked as requested by Lord Dunraven at the same time they were remeasured, with the result of only one-eighth of an inch in low-water mark in case of Defender and one-sixteenth of an nch in Valkyrie. As the result varied the ime allowance only a second or two, and in no way affected the outcome of the

The following resolution was adopted: "That a cup be presented to the owners of Defender in recognition of their successful defense of the America's cup in the recent match, and that a cup be also presented to Mr. George J. INDIANA UNIVERSITY TEAM DE-FEATED BY A SCORE OF 16 TO S.

special to the Indianapolis Journal. BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 24 .- A crowd dianapolis Artillery eleven defeat the Indiana University football team to-day by a score of 16 to 8. The weather was cool and denzies, Capt...Full back......Scott Referee-First half, Hamilton; second The halves were thirty minutes each. U. took the ball and kicked off to the Artillery's thirty-yard line. Summerville carried the ball back to the center of the field, and then after a series of rushes and end plays, Artillery made the first touchdown in about eight minutes and kicked goal. L. U. kicked off again, I. U. got the ball on downs and rushed across the Artillery line in five minutes, Sheeks catching the ball on a fumble and going fifteen yards around the end for the touchdown. I. U. failed to kick goal. The Artillery then kicked the ball from the line. It struck I. U.'s left guard. Artillery recovered the ball, and again working their end plays to good advantage, made another touchdown a few seconds before the end of the first half. Full back Scott failed to kick goal, leaving the score at the end of the first inning 10 to in favor of Artillery.

In the second half the play was much faster. After the Artillery boys ran the score up to 16, Osgood, for I. U., succeeded in scoring a touchdown just before the call of time. Score at end of game, 16 to 8. line rushing resulted in nothing, although line rushing resulted in nothing, although the University team was far lighter. The Artillery boys were crippled somewhat by the absence of their regular ends—the Olin boys. Two of I. U.'s regular team were also off on account of sickness. There were several contested discussions, which delayed the game somewhat, but in general the refereeing was very fair. The showing made this afternoon by the University team was the best ever made by it, and indi-cates a close contest when they meet the other college teams of the State. Coacher Osgood, formerly of the University of Pennsylvania, who played a great half back during the second half, has been training them into fine shape.

BUTLER VS. WABASH. A Closely-Contested Game Expected Here To-Morrow.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the State has passed out of existence, the interest manifested in the football games to be played by the teams of the different colleges of the State this year is as lively as in any previous season. The first intercollegiate game to be played in this city this year will be the contest between the teams representing Butler University and Wabash College, which will occur at the ball park to-morrow afternoon. The enthusiasm of the supporters of each team is now above par, and the members of the teams are working faithfully under their soachers to get into form for the game. Wabash was beaten last year by Butler by a score of 58 to 0, and the Wabash men this season are more than anxious that the defeat shall be wiped out, while the University men are fully as determined that their former good record shall be maintained. The rivalry between Butler and Wabash has always been tions is perhaps more cordial than that of leges, and it is expected that the attendance at the game will be very large. A great many of the Wabash students are making preparations to accompany their team to this city. On paper the two teams seem to be perfectly matched. While Wabash is said to have slightly the heavier team, the Butler men make up in activity what they lack in new men, so that no advantage may be GOODLAND, Kan., Oct. 24.-The second formerly of the Princeton "Tigers," has had were fairly plentiful, but a great many got up too far away to be slipped at. Most of the courses were hotly contested. The five courses in the first round of the Altcar Produce stakes for greyhounds, pups born in 1894, left from yesterday, were first run off and then a start was made in the Altcar cup, value $500, for greyhounds of all ages. There were twenty-four entries, but owing to some undecided courses it was not possible to run through the card. In the Produce stakes Van Brulie, of Indiana olis, beat Cricket, of Tribune, Kan. In the Altcar cup contest, after a no-course, Van Cilie, of Indianapolis, beat Wigmore, Denver. After an undecided course Diana, of St. Louis, beat Van Otjen, of Indianapolis. nois. The University of Chicago has put contests of the two teams. It has been de-cided that Tucker, formerly an end rush on the University of Chicago team, and Cooper, of the University of Illinois, shall officiate as umpire and referee, both being reputed to be fair men. In the play so far this season, neither team seems to have the advantage. Early in the season Butler played a tie game with the Noblesville team, which is said to be very strong, while Wabash played the same team with a score of 6 to 4 in her favor, which was virtually a tie, the failure to kick goal losing the game for Noblesville. Butler has been defeated by the Louisville Athletic Club's team, and Wabish met an ignominious defeat at the hands of the University of Ilinois team. Last Saturday Wabash defeated DeFauw by a score of 6 to 0. Wabash and Butler will play many of the same teams, including most of the teams of the State, and several out of the State, and consequently the interest in this game, in which they test their individual merits, is greatly increased. As to the men, Butier may not be indi-vidually as strong as Wabash, but the men have been trained to play team work. Wright, the center, has had several years' experience on the second eieven and as a substitute on the 'varsity team. He has great strength, supported by limitless endurance. He is strongly supported by Loop and Osborn. Loop is a new man, but has proved to be a find. Osborn played with DePauw two years ago, and started the season last year with the Butler team, but was compelled to retire with a lame leg. He plays a "heady" gone, and when given the ball seldom fails to advance it. It is next to impossible to rake gains through his part of the line, and he has a mode of breaking through the opposing line and se-curing the ball that is demoralizing to the opponents. Captain Lister, as a tackle, is well known in football circles. He has the faculty of never losing his head, and sees an opportunity for a gain where another never notices it. He is able to keep his eyes on all the members of the team, and yet play his own position without fault. One of his characteristics is rising from a mass

Clymer, who has had several years' experience at Butler, playing several of the big games as a substitue last year. The ends will be well taken care of by last year's ends, Parker and "Hinky" Freeman. Both of these men have an ability for breaking up interference and for following the ball down the field, which marks the successful end rush. They are quick and sure at tackling, and it is safe to say that the gains around the ends will be scattered and few. Stevenson or Loop will play quarter back. Stevenson seems to be the surer in passing the ball, but is too short to make speed at running. He is quick to see a fluke and remedy it. The half backs are Thompson and Baker. Thompson has played for several years with the Columbus played for several years with the Colt High School team, and is a good ground gainer. Baker has had several years' exwho knows football at all understands what to expect when Charley Baker takes the ball. He strikes the line with the force of a catapult, and has the record of being extremely hard to tackle. Reinhardt, the full back, was formerly with the High School team, and is sure on his punts and several players injured in games this season, but substitutes have been so trained that little effect is felt from the loss of the men. Rauch, who played several games last year, is the center rush. He is strong and solid for his position. Demarce and Farrell are the guards, and form a strong Farrell are the guards, and form a strong support for the center. Farrell has had several years' experience. There have been several good candidates for tackles, and the various men have been given a chance to show their abilities in the games played. Ashman, of last year's team, is sure of his place as right tackle, and Mulroney will probably play the other tackle. Pattison and Finnegan, as ends, are great improvements over last year's ends, and play their positions with ability. They are swift runhers and sure tacklers. The half backs are both new men. Clouser and Reed are playboth new men. Clouser and Reed are playing the positions, and seem to have proved themselves "finds." Ristine, full back, was the substitute for the position last year. Captain Sullivan, an Indianapolis boy, while a new man, has shown excellent generalsh and plays a fast game. He is a conscie ious player and will urge his men to o'clock to-morrow morning and be taken to the Grand Hotel. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. Arrangements have been made whereby no one will be allowed on the field between the gridiron and the grand stand. Special officers have been detailed to keep the field clear.

THANKSGIVING-DAY GAME.

Butler and the Artillery Teams Will Make the Final Test of Strength. The agreement for the Thanksgiving day football game has been signed by the man-Among the fine features of the game were Hunt's running and tackling, the line bucking of Endicott, Owen and King, and Sheek's brilliant end playing. All of the Artillery's backs played a splendid game, making all their gains on end plays. Their waiting for a team with which the game waiting for a team with which the game be played. It was decided that there would be more interest taken in the game if two local teams should be matched, and consequently the contest with Butler was arranged. These two teams played the game on Thanksgiving day last year, which was the cause of the dissolution of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association. In that game Butler defeated the Artillery by a score of 6 to 4, and there will be much interest taken in this year's game. It has been agreed that the Harvard-Pennsylvania-Cornell amendments to the rules shall govern the game. This will require two umpires, which will obviate all the rough

BIG SHOOTING MATCH

MANY CRACKS KILLING SWIFT BLUE ROCKS AT BALTIMORE.

Contest for a Trophy, Rich Stakes an the Championship of the World -Scores Made Yesterday.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 24.-Darkness stopped the big shooting match for the Dupont trophy and the championship of the world to-day after each of the contestants had shot at eleven birds. It will be finished to-morrow. Twelve of the shooters have killed straight birds thus far and the match promises to be worthy of the big stakes the men are contending for. The handicap committee has fixed the distance at thirty-three yards for Capt. Jack Brewer down to twent-five yards for those whose records are not so good. E. D. Fulford shoots at thirty-two yards and Captain Money and Yale Dolan, who shoots as "Ashbrook," at twenty-nine, Each man will shoot at twenty-five birds and no division of first money will be allowed, all ties being required to be shot off. The match is being shot off at the grounds of the Balgood natured, and the feeling between the | timore Shooting Association, and a large crowd, which included many ladies, was there to see the sport. The hour fixed for any other schools in the State. This has the beginning of the shoot was 11 o'clock. marksman took his place in front of the traps and said: "Ready! Pull!" The birds were a well-selected and unusually strong lot of blue rocks and the atmo pheric conditions were precisely right to make them hard to hit. Many of them fell just out of the bounds and one flew away and was lost entirely after both its legs had been shot away. Captain Brewer, who is the favorite in the betting, shot in magnificent form, and luck was clearly with him, for one of his birds fell clearly out weight. Each team is made up largely of of bounds, but was retrieved before the new men, so that no advantage may be referees got their eyes on it. Fulford, on the other hand, missed three and is conhad superior training, as J. Marshall Flint, Yale Dolan, of Philadelphia, got but nine out of the eleven, but McAlester, his fel- obtained from the labor of the convicts, to low-citizen, who shoots as "Hayward," has | the end that, after all the work and worry killed eleven straight. HOW SHALL IT BE UTILIZED INTEL-

Interesting Address at the Conference of Charities and Correction-Other Papers-Election of Officers.

LIGENTLY DISCUSSED BY MR. BALL.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 24.-The last day of the fourth annual State Conference of Charities and Correction was a busy penal and reformatory work. The first trustee of School for Boys at Plainfield. He took a broad view of his subject. He said both the Indiana Reform School for Boys, at Plainfield, and the Reform School for Girls, at Indianapolis, are now conducted on the theory that they reform, Schools, intended by the education of heart and head and hand to reform the morally, mentally, and, in a sense, physicially malformed and deformed youth committed to their charge. "The dominant idea in both these institutions," he said, "is the reformation of those committed to their keeping. Investigation of their parentage, of the influences surrounding, the examples set and the opportunities for improvement afforded them in their own homes will show that in many cares they are more sinned against than sinning, and that they could not be expect-ed to grow under such conditions and with such training and lack of training into erect and honest and useful manhood and "It is the plain purpose of reform schools to correct the effects of these evil efficiencies and deplorable deficiencies. An ever-present hope is to return them to the world with such education of head and hand as will enable them to earn honest livings in the world, with such moral training as will make them want to do it and with such experiences of discipline in this epitome of the larger world as will bring them to a realization of the fact that hon-esty in the broadest sense of the word, meaning all things of good repute, is really the best policy. A boy or girl, heedless in some ways and headstrong in others, with propensities not of the best and associations of the worst, with opportunities of such a boy or girl once headed wrong is almost certain to get further and further wrong unless something is done, for the descent to Avernus was always easy, as was discovered long ago. To take such boy or girl and to return him or her to so-ciety transferred on the ledger of life from the debit side of menace and misery, of watching and locking doors against and setting police after to the credit side, to the side of usefulness and industry and honesty, caring for itself and helping to keep the machinery of government moving is to strike a good balance even though the expense account is large. Besides, it is great saving of the boys and girls of this year, the men and women of the coming years. Great as are Indiana's material resources and valuable as are the productions of her farms and factories, her mines and quarries, this human harvest is immeasura-bly greater and more valuable."

INTERMEDIATE INSTITUTIONS. Speaking of the work done in the Reform School, Mr. Ball said: "The institution and its inhabitants for the most part use what they create. When its boys have been taught how to make an honest living and their labor has been rendered valuable, being in other respects fitted for freedom, they are sent into the world. Indiana reaps the harvest the Reform School sows. In my opinion the theory of the Reform School should be carried a step further. An intermediate link is needed in that chain the first link of which is the reform school and the last the prison. Different treatment should be accorded those guilty of their first offense, no matter what their age, from what is accorded those who have been guilty of repeated offenses and may be said to have raised the black flag in their war on society. * * *
"Organized on my plan, next above the Reform School for boys would be an intermediate institution for persons over twenty-one years of age found guilty of their first of the state of th their first offense. Sentence to such insti-tutions should be indeterminate. Among other things chiefly, it should be a school. Perhaps he went astray by reason of the extreme difficulty he experienced in mak-ing a living. Probably that difficulty was due to the inadequacy of his equipment for what has not inaptly been called the battle of life. Let instruction in some useful occupation be concurrent with the treatment of his mental and moral obliquity. Here, as at the Reform School for Boys, the institution would be benefit of the inmates, to make workers rather than untilize work, "In the system contemplated there would be a Reform School for Boys as now Graduation from it, when not on 'honor' into the world, should be into an institution for feeble-minded or into this intermediate reform school. Boys who could not, or would not be reformed when they reach the age of twenty-one, who did not by their character and conduct and attain in charge of them that in going into the world they could or would at least try to live without making war on society should not be turned loose. "From the intermediate prison, or re form school, sentence to which, as a prime essential, should be for an indeterminate period, there should be graduation into the world on "honor," as in the case of boy from the reform school. There should b one other class of graduates. Those who could not or would not be reformed should be sent to a prison. And in this prison the dominant idea should be the product to be set them to work for it. It is the utiliza-tion of the labor of this last mentioned class that I desire to consider.

"Let it be clearly understood that the laborer, utilization of whose labor I am now considering, is one who, for this would be true in a few years after the adoption of the system just outlined, has been labored with and for, been taught and talked to and advised and expostulated with and preached to and prayed for and had valuable time an hard-earned tax-taken money expended on in the reform school when he was a boy, or later in the intermediate prison, in both, in an unavailing effort to reclain him. No effort has been spared, nor ex-pense, either, to get him straight. But he persists in staying crooked and patience is exhausted. It is now his time to pay the tuition bills for the schooling he was provided with but would not receive.

HOURS OF WORK. "Those who have paid me the compliment to listen thus far will understand that in this proposed plan there can be no possible place for lodgment of the idea that these third-degree master workmen are not to work. Work is precisely what they are to do, and they are to do just as much as they possibly can. Sentiment and cash are both exhausted in their cases teaching them how to work. It was the hope that they would work on their own account, and live honestly and be law-abiding, useful citizens, That expectation having failed, they should now be put to work for the State. They should work at least as many hours as street-car motormen and conductors, grocery store cierks and newspaper men. This seems to be severe. It is, and is so intended. It is preposterous to suggest the maintenance in idleness of lawbreakers at the expense of the law-abiding and industricus thus languages, their hours of tell trious, thus lengthening their hours of toll and increasing the burnens they must bear. They should be made to work as hard as possible and as effectively as possible to the end that they may shorten the hours and lighten the labor of those whom they have already subjected to so much labor and ex-

"After many years of corruption and extravagance, in which the parents of the school children of Indiana paid enormous tribute to the school book publishers, the present wise and just law was adopted.
Under the provisions of this law the State Board of Education receive competitive blds on school books or manuscripts, on the merit of which the board passes, and awards the contracts to the lowest and best bidder. These books are then bought by the town or township at the awarded price and sold to the pupils at cost. My plan for supplying these books for the school children is the present one, except that the State Board of Education should purchase school books in manuscript form. The books should be printed and bound for the school children of the State by the State's prisoners, and be issued to the town and township officials at a cost or a fraction above cost, and sold to the pupils as is now done. Illustrations for the books. awards the contracts to the lowest and probably, could not be made in the prison, cossibly the type setting could not be lone, but in this case and in every case where any part of a given piece of work could not be done inside the walls it could be procured outside on competitive bids, and whatever could be done inside should be done there. In the same way the Indiana law reports, the anual reports of all the State's institutions, the books and blanks for State, county and township officials could all be made there, possibly the paper

"Without going into particulars, for the subject expands on contemplation and involves a multiplicity of details, the working out of which would require more time than can be devoted to it here, the core of my contention, the idea on which I desire to concentrate attention is that the State's convicts should do the State's work, supply those things that the State does now pro vide for the paupers, her insane, her offi-cials, and, in the way indicated, for her school children. This would take the State out of the market entirely, both as buyer and seller. She would not compete with any one in trade. People would not have to any one in trade. People would not have to compete for her trade except in the limited way indicated, and certainly would not get her work, as patronage through the favor of officials. Out of her own resources she would supply her own needs.

"To my fancy there is something akin to the eternal fitness of things in making those who impoverished all by the heavy cost of their long but ineffective training, provide clothes and shoes for the helpless.

cost of their long but ineffective training, provide clothes and shoes for the helpless poor, print books for expounding those laws they violated, print school books for children, and, in a word, do all the work they can for that State which had done so much for them and whose solicitude they have so poorly requited."

Mr. Ball's paper was listened to attentively. This was followed by the closing exercises of the conference, introduction of the president-elect of the fifth conference, and address of farewell by delegates and local

MRS. MABEL YZNAGA DIVORCED.

Decree Granted by a South Dakota Court-No Contest by Defendant. YANKTON, S. D., Oct. 24.-A decree of divorce has been granted in the case of Mrs. Mabel Yznaga against Fernando A. Yznaga, of New York city. The complaint alleges desertion of plaintiff by the defendant on the 5th of February, 1894, and asks for a reasonable alimony and the expenses of the suit. The defendant made no contest, but appeared by attorney, so as render the decree as valid to ... m as to her. All evidence in the case was in the form of depositions from New York in corroboration of Mrs. Yznaga's complaint. There is nothing in the decree relative to property rights, it being understood that this matter has been arranged between the parties to their mutual satisfaction. Mrs. Yznaga has been a resident of Yankton six months, and will remain here for the present. The decree was granted in Aurora county, South

A New York dispatch says: Mrs. Yznaga was Miss Mabel Wright before her marriage. Her father was an artist and a man of only moderate means, but her remarkable beauty won for her a place in the most fashionable society. Her marriage to Fernando Yznaga was a surprise to the so-cial world. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John R. Paxton, at the bedside of her invalid mother, on March 4, 1890, and only a dozen people were present. They spent their honeymoon on the continent, and on returning were the center of the social whiri at Newport. Then they went to Europe again. It was while there that rumor began to be busy with their names, and it was openly stated that they could not agree. The rumors were verified when, toward the close of last February, Mrs. Yznaga returned unexpectedly from abroad without her husband. A story published recently was that, on securing her divorce, she would marry Count Belazichy, but the latter promptly denied it,

The Colt Divorce Case.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 24.-James. M. Ripiey, Rathburn Gardner and Richard Comstock, counsel for Mrs. Samuel Colt held a conference with their client at Mr. Comstock's office to-day. The entire party then started for New York. Colonel Col. accompanied by friends, went to that city yesterday, but no one here seems to know what this exodus means. The writ for Mr. J. J. Van Alen's arrest was given to High Sheriff Deblois, of Newport county, this afternoon. It will be served to-morrow and Van Alen's friends say he will furnish the required bond immediately.

Science is "knowing how." The only secret about Scott's Emulsion is years of science. When made in large quantities and by improving methods, an emulsion must be more perfect than when made in the oldtime way with mortar and pestle a few ounces at a time. This is why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil never separates, keeps sweet for years, and why every spoonful is equal to every other spoonful. An even product throughout.

In other emulsions you are liable to get an uneven benefit—either an over or under dose. Get Scott's. Genuine has a salmon-colored wrapper.
